These are the genuine Edison pictures, the only official pictures of the fight. They show scenes at the ring side—the introduction of every celebrity, including Sullivan, Corbett, and others; street scenes at Reno, and many other interesting incidents. This is the only opportunity the people of Washington will ever have of seeing what was probably the last highest prize fight of modern times. The management desires to cumpharsize the fact that the entertainment will be conducted along strictly high-class lines. Especial accommodations have been made for the ladies.

walked. Gray Gets His Bumps. The lead was short lived, as Gray blew up plenty in the fifth. Two were gon when Works poked a liner into left field for two bases. D. Jones reached first on Cunningham's boot, and O'Leary and Mc Intyre followed with singles. Crawford riped off a double and Moriarity banged one to center field for three bases. Gray was removed and Otey pitched. Lathers was retired by Cunningham. In the eighth the Nationals bobbed up with another run. Somerlot singled and so did Henry and Milan, sending the new first baser across the plate. The Tigers got it back in their half. Singles by Moriarity, Lathers, and Tom Jones did the work. Then the Nationals put on the big stuff in the ninth and tied the count. C. W. Fairfax reports a very pleasant Gessler singled with one gone; McBride walked; so did Somerlot. With the bases lac "30" Saturday, returning Sunday aft- filled Henry was removed and Lelivelt batted. He sent an easy grounder to O'Leary close to second base. O'Leary forced Somerlot all right, but cut loose a wild throw that tied up against the grand stand, and Gessler and McBride nolly trotted across the plate.
